

HMA Accounts

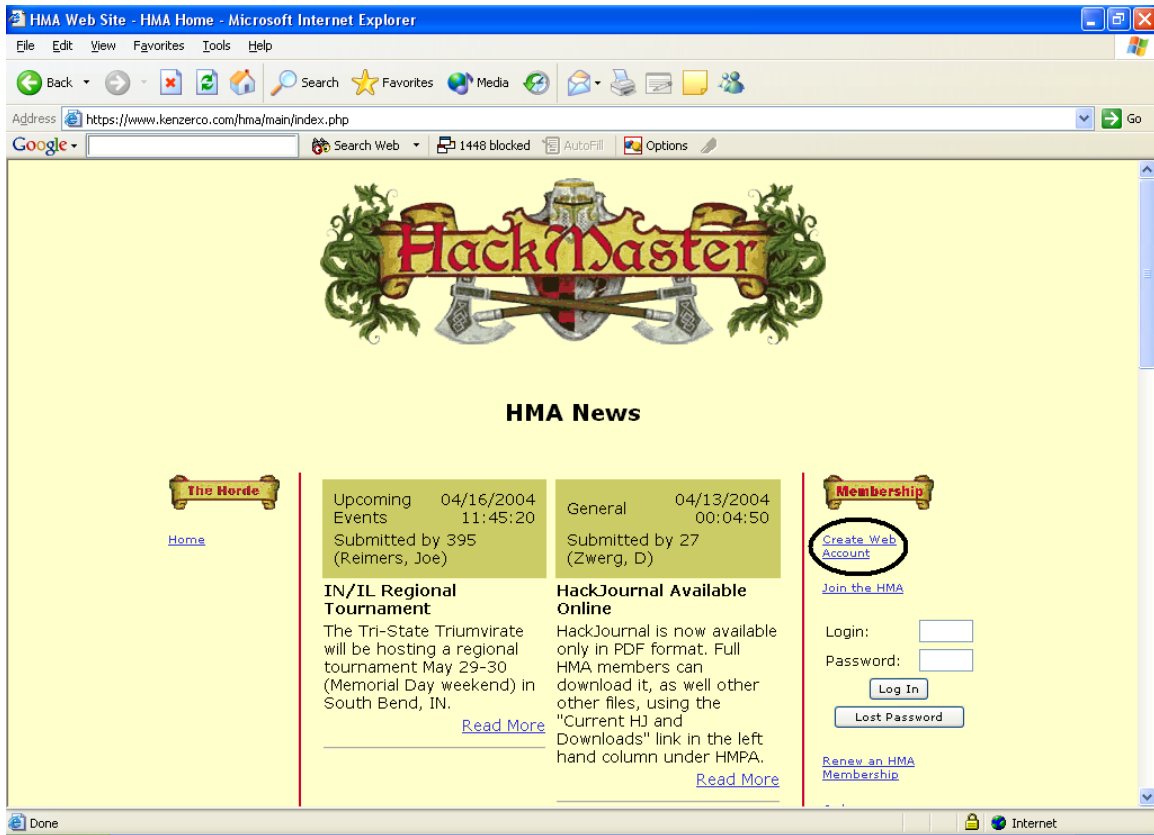

An HMA web account provides access to HMA downloads and resources as well as to your personal HMA information. It must be created separately from an account for the discussion forums.

How to Create an HMA Account

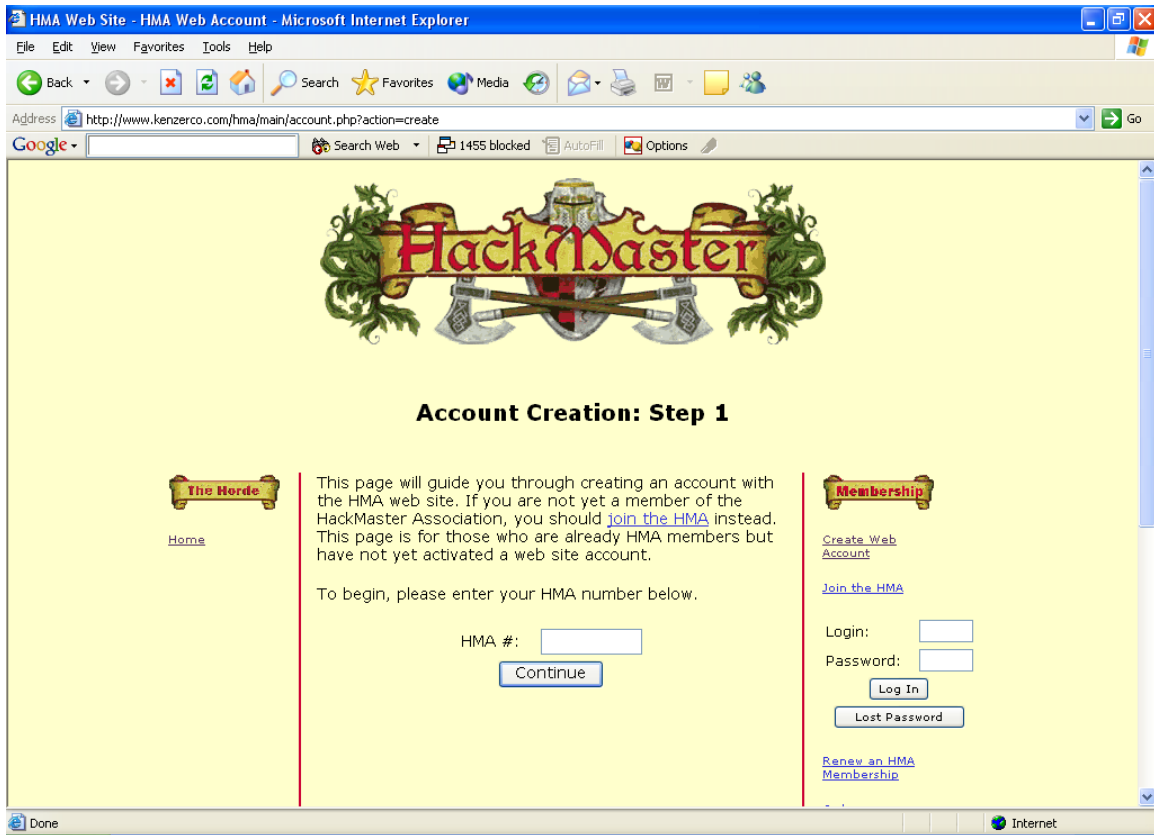

- Access the main HMA Web page, <http://www.kenzerco.com/hma/main/index.php>
- If you are not already a member of the HMA, click “Join the HMA” from the “Membership” column on the right side of the screen and follow the instructions to join

- If you are already an HMA member, click on “Create Web Account” in the “Membership” column

- Enter your HMA number and click on “continue”

- Enter your name, address, email address, and select a logon. Then click “create account”

The process of creating your web account is nearly complete. (Quicker than a Pixie Fairie on haste, ain't it?) There's just a small matter of making sure you are who you think you are. Nobody gets in here who doesn't know their doppleganger password!

Below, you'll find several pieces of information that you've already provided to the HMA. Please fill those out so that they match what you've given the association. If you've forgotten something, such as your name... you have bigger problems than not being able to create a web account. Try contacting HMA HQ to straighten out the problem.

- Be sure to enter a valid email address, because your password will be emailed to you

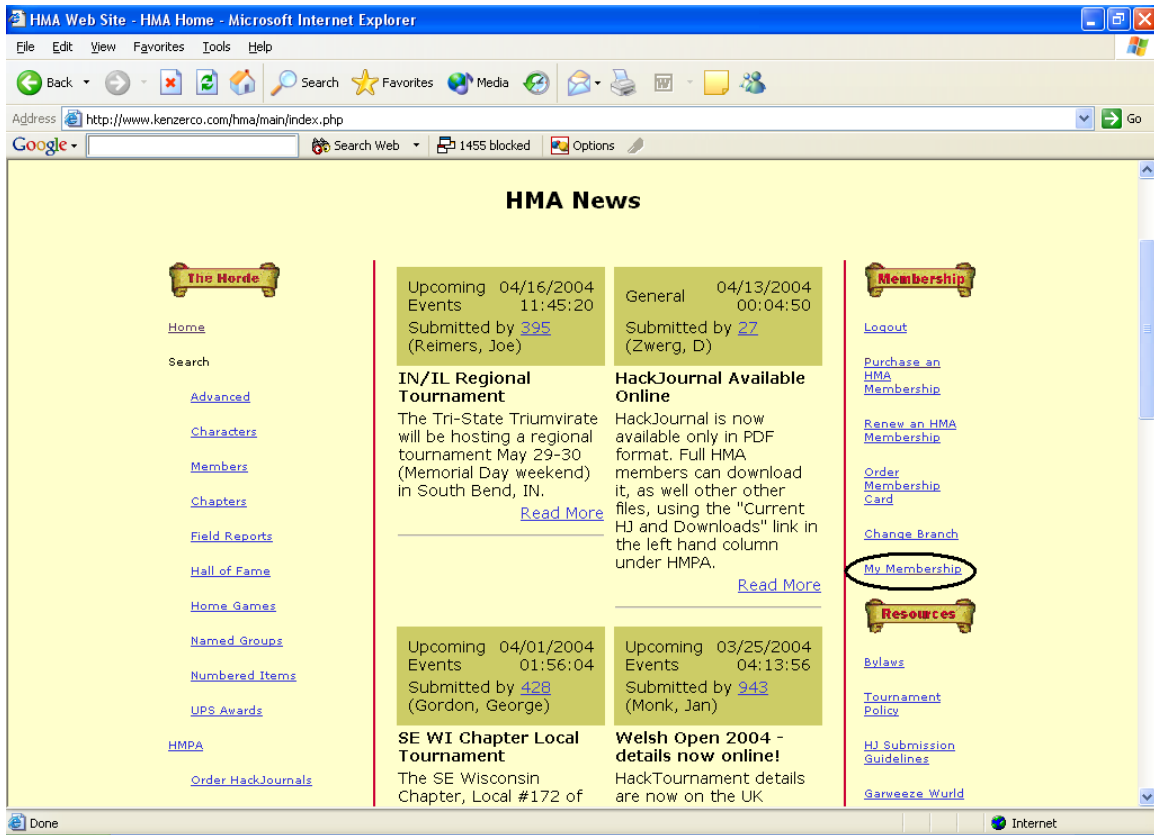

- Once you have received your password, you will be ready to access your HMA Account!

How to Access an HMA Account

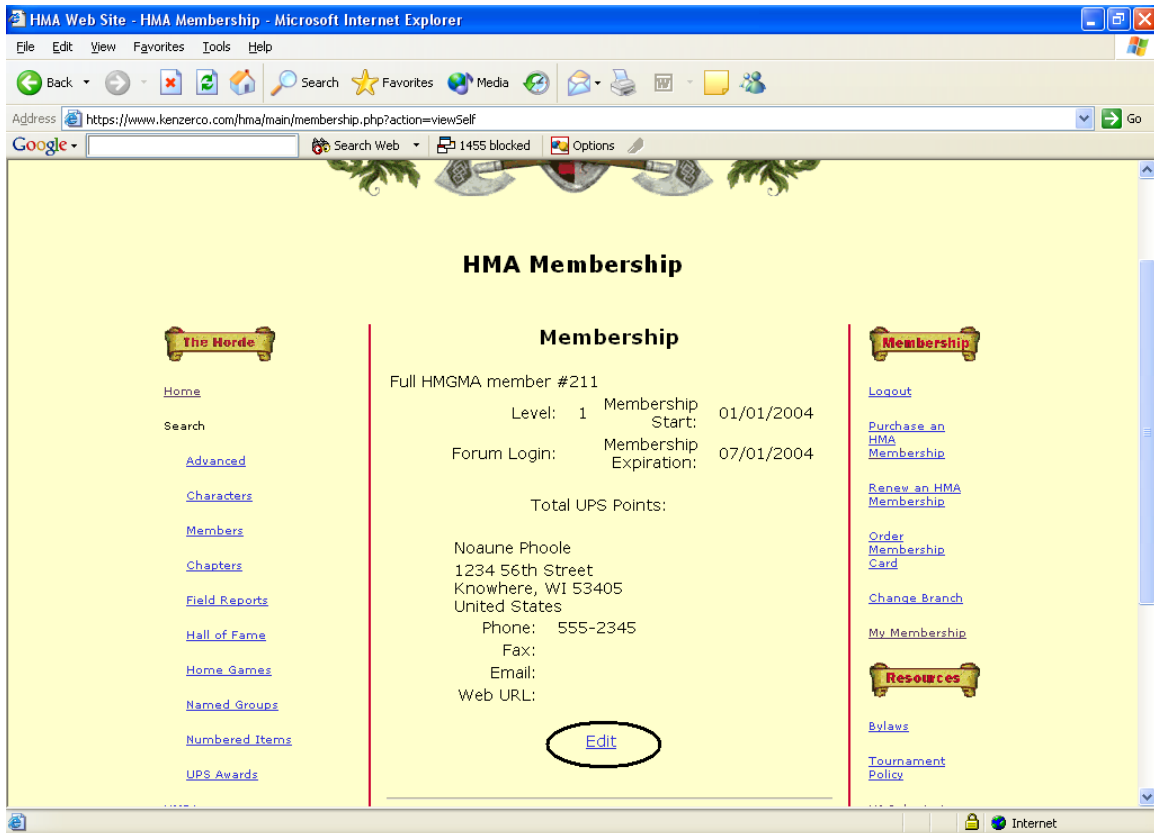

- Access the main HMA Web page, <http://www.kenzerco.com/hma/main/index.php>
- In the “Membership” column on the right side of the screen, enter your logon and password in the fill-in boxes and click on “login”

- Once logged in you will have access to a wide array of HMA resources, including the searchable database of HMA members, current downloads, and membership options
- When logging in for the first time, you should change your password. Select “my membership” in the membership” column

- At the membership screen select “edit”

- At the next screen you will be able to update your contact information and your password.
- Select a password that you will remember and which is secure, and type it in twice, in the boxes for “password” and “confirm password”
- If necessary, update your contact information
- When you are done with your updates, click on “submit membership”

Downloading current HackJournal and other downloads

- HackJournal and other HMA downloads are available to full HMA members only. Sidekick members do not have the ability to access this portion of the HMA Web site
- Access the main HMA Web page, <http://www.kenzerco.com/hma/main/index.php> and logon to your account
- Select “Current HJ and Downloads” from the “HMPA” menu under “The Horde” on the left side of the screen

- You will be taken to the HMA Downloads page. This page includes all materials currently available for download, including HackJournal

- Only the most recent issue of HackJournal is available at a time. Previous issues are removed from the page as soon as the next issue becomes available. Be sure to save a copy for future reference. To save, right-click on the file and select “save target as.” Then select a download location where you’ll be able to find the file later, and click on “save”
- Many files, including HackJournal, are available in pdf format. You will need Adobe Reader in order to use these files. You can find out more about Adobe Reader and download it for free at <http://www.adobe.com/products/acrobat/readermain.html>

Account problems

If you forget your logon name or have other problems with your account, all is not lost!

- Send an email to HMA@kenzerco.com from the email account you signed up with
- Include in the email your name, your HMA number, and the exact nature of the problem you’re having
- The HMA manager will get back to you as soon as possible to get your access reestablished
