

HackJournal Submission Guidelines

March 31st, 2004

A strong preference will be shown for electronic submissions. Paper submissions must be painstakingly retyped into the computer by a dwarf who types so slowly that he measures his typing speed by words per hour rather than words per minute - so a submission would have to be the most awesome thing since blast furnaces to justify so many hours of labor.

Electronic submissions must be in either Microsoft Word format or Rich Text Format (RTF). No other formats will be accepted. A submission may be accompanied by maps or images, but no larger than 8 1/2" by 11". Images are only accepted in .TIF or .JPG file formats. If you hand-draw your map, scan it into the computer and save it at 300 dpi resolution in .TIF or .JPG format. Lower resolution images do not print clearly.

The advantage of the electronic format is now longer articles with more tables and art are acceptable.

Article Formatting:

Do not format your article. Leave all text as "normal" (do not use Headlines, Boldface, Columns, Underlines, Change default tab settings, Center, or any other formatting options). Our layout staff will format tables and read-aloud text as you have seen in each issue of HackJournal.

If you include boxed (read-aloud) text, use asterisks to indicate them as shown below:

 boxed text ***

Put any text that is intended to appear as boxed (read-aloud) text between three asterisks, as shown.

If you include any charts or tables, use asterisks to indicate where they start and stop and tabbed text columns (no formatted objects please) as shown below:

 Table: XX ***

Table: XX <title>

(die roll [if applicable])

Column 1	Column 2	Column 3
first	second	third

For a complete article include the following information at the top of the article:

<Article Category (if you know it: i.e. "A Day in the Life", "FAQ Master", "Players' Advantage", etc)>

<Article title>

by <Name> <HMA branch (HMGMA or HMPA)> <complete HMA number (for example, Jolly's is IL-10-00001-01)>

<Main article text>

Since magic items, spells, skills, talents, and even monsters may be combined with other submissions they should have the author's information listed under the name of each item to allow for treatment as an individual item. This allows you to submit multiple items at the same time as some may be approved while others are not. For such items the following information should be included:

<submission type or category>

<first item name>

by <Name> <HMA branch (HMGMA or HMPA)> <complete HMA>

<first item text>

<second item name>

by <Name> <HMA branch (HMGMA or HMPA)> <complete HMA>

<second item text>
